

ten yards, and it was first down on William and Mary's twenty-five-yard line.

After a short gain Harlan dropped back and tried a field goal, but failed. William and Mary punted out and secured the ball in midfield on a fumble. Then Joyce received left end for a sensational sprint of twenty yards to his opponents' thirty-five-yard line. An inside kick was attempted, and Randolph-Macon secured the ball on their twenty-three-yard line, and Harlan punted to the William and Mary forty-five-yard line. Cohen got around left end for five yards, but was brought down by Balderson on the Ashland forty-five-yard line. After trying the ends for no gain, William and Mary punted to the Randolph-Macon fifteen-yard line, and Chaplin returned it five yards. Harlan punted to midfield, and Captain Dovel got around left end and returned the ball to the Ashland twenty-yard line. Failing to gain, Featherstone essayed a drop kick for goal from the twenty-five-yard line, but failed. Randolph-Macon punted out, and the ball was run back to midfield by Joyce.

Failing to gain through the line, Dovel punted to Randolph-Macon's twenty-five-yard line, and it was run back five yards. Randolph-Macon fumbled and William and Mary fell on the ball on the Ashland forty-yard mark, where Eastwood was thrown without gain in try around end. Dovel punted to Randolph-Macon's twenty-five-yard line, and the ball was run back five yards. Randolph-Macon made first down in three plunges by backs, and tackles, and then, failing to gain, punted to the William and Mary quarter back on his forty-five yard line. An on-side kick was attempted, but Chaplin landed the ball back on it back five yards.

Randolph-Macon then gained fifteen yards on a forward pass to Captain Woodhouse. Harlan tried a field goal, but William and Mary broke through and blocked it. Chaplin falling on it, however, Randolph-Macon tried a punt and ended without gain and then tried a fake forward pass for no gain, losing the ball on their opponent's thirty-two-yard line.

Cohen made three yards, and then Dovel kicked off to Chaplin at his twenty-yard line, and he ran it back fifteen yards, his best work in the game, but the ball was brought back five yards on a penalty. Chaplin punted to midfield, where an Ashland end got it. Dovel tried right end without gain and Harlan punted to the William and Mary forty-five-yard line, and it was run back five yards. Joyce then tried a drop kick, but it failed, and Dovel punted to Harlan on his twenty-yard line, and he fumbled, but recovered the ball.

At this point Bishop went in for Harris and Phelps for Irbey, and play was resumed. Dovel got around end for thirty yards, but after that, he plunged netted but four yards, and an on-side kick was made successfully. William and Mary getting the ball on their opponents' thirty-seven-yard line, Dovel punted to Chaplin on his eight-yard line, and he ran it back to the eighteen-yard mark. Harlan punted to Featherstone in midfield, and he ran it back twenty-five yards. He then dropped back and landed a field goal from the thirty-five-yard line, tying the score amid wild enthusiasm. A punting duel followed the kick-off, and William and Mary after rushing the ball to the thirty-five-yard line essayed another drop kick at goal, but failed. The half ended with the score 4 to 4.

OLYMPIA BOWLERS BEATEN BY CRYSTALS

First Match Between Teams Shows Some Excellent Individual Work.

On Thursday night at the Lake Bowling Alleys the Olympias, the champion team of the former Twin City League, lined up against the Crystals team of the Lake Bowling Alleys, and the game resulted in a great victory for the Crystals. For obvious reasons, both teams were handicapped to some extent, but as a whole they averaged up very well. Following is the score:

Crystals	First	Second	Third
Hicks (Capt.)	145	173	173
Krillm	162	145	157
Cosby	177	118	239
Blair	162	136	168
Briggs	131	184	191
Total	718	716	904

Olympias.....First.....Second.....Third.....Total.....

Williams.....103.....151.....118.....372

(Capt.)

Spilling.....126.....155.....174.....455

Cook.....151.....156.....119.....426

Whitman.....126.....179.....206.....511

Gus.....126.....139.....126.....391

Total.....662.....738.....767.....2167

The above scores will show Cosby as high individual score with 239. Whitman as high average for the three games of 171 2-3 pins. The scores also show that Richmond has a lot of first-class bowlers and can compete with any bowling league in this State.

On Thursday night at the Lake Alleys the same teams will battle for honors, and it is expected to be one of the closest and prettiest contests ever rolled in this city. The victory is claimed by the Olympias, as they feel confident they have the strongest team in the best bowling league in this State.

DEEP RUN HUNT MEET

Fastest Run of Season, With One Fumble.

The Deep Run Hunt Club met yesterday afternoon at Brook Store. Promptly at 4 o'clock the bounds were fast off in the local meadow towards the colored school house. Then through Montrose, where ditches and fences were taken with but one mishap, Mr. Gregory coming in a cropper over stiff timber, but was soon up to join the chase. Crossing the Brook Creek, the course lay through Warlick's, where a four-foot-six-inch fence was negotiated through Brook Hill low grounds. Dr. Dunn's, Captain Reade's, Wickfield's, all as the hunt was pronounced by all as the fastest and best of the season.

Those riding were St. George Bryan, M. P. H., on Orlando; Hall, with an Allan Brecht; Mr. Harrison, Lady Vivian; W. H. P. Leigh, on Brown Jug; Mr. Robert Titton, on Bannister; Mr. Hartlight, on Betty Barker; Dr. Bryan, on Capt. Sandwich; Mr. Rueger, on Piedmont Archer; Anderson, on Chisholm; Miss Ashburn, on King Edward; Mr. W. O. Young, on Old Red; Mr. A. S. Buford, on Erin; Mr. R. J. Anderson, on Culpeper; Mr. Gregory, on Belland; and Mr. Saunders, on The Unknown.

The following were present at the club house tea: Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Carter, Captain and Mrs. Wm. Law, street, Colonel and Mrs. Thos. H. McAdams, Mrs. A. S. Buford, Mrs. Belle Gray, Mrs. Geo. Jon Johnston; Misses Whitely, Frances Meyers and Allene Stokes.

TIGERS PLAY A TIE.

Chestnut Hill Team Holds Unbeaten Eleven to Draw.

In Chestnut Hill yesterday the Tigers and the Chestnut Hill team played a tie. The Chestnut Hill team was then called, the score being 6 to 6. Both teams played good ball, the Tigers having the better of it in the first half, and Chestnut Hill in the second. Nickels made the touchdown for the Tigers, and Herndon for the Chestnut Hill eleven did some good kicking for the Tigers.

There were only four fights among the players before the game was played. The Tigers go to Petersburg to play the strong Petersburg eleven next Saturday, November 22d.

GREAT REGATTA IS NOW IN PROSPECT

Richmond Oarsmen Impressed With Possibilities of Such Event.

VIRGINIA CLUB PROSPERS

Membership Large and Finances Satisfactory—Coach Hecox Is Wanted.

At the annual meeting of the Virginia Boat Club, held a few days ago, officers were elected for the ensuing year, the finances and membership of the club were shown to be in excellent condition, and the interest in aquatics greater than ever before. With a membership of 188, with ample equipment in excellent condition and a demand for enlarged quarters, the members cannot see anything but a great season ahead for next year.

The success of the crew during the season just closed has aroused interest and enthusiasm to a high pitch and the membership of the club, headed by Mr. C. W. Hecox, a teacher of the Technical High School, Washington, D. C., who so successfully coached and conditioned the crews in 1907, is again in demand for 1908, and will in all probability be again secured by the club.

The suggestion of The Times-Dispatch, made after the last race by the Annapolis, that efforts be made to secure a great open regatta in this city next year, is popular with the members, and it is now proposed to purchase a fine eight-oared shell. As stated by the Times-Dispatch, the course just east of the city is one of the best rowing courses in America, and is ample to accommodate many crews. Small expenses for shelter tents, baggage cars to bring the victor boats and some outlay in prizes would be sufficient to bring many of the crack crews of the East to Richmond in competition. The Annapolis and Potomac, of Washington, the Argyle, of Baltimore; the Argonauts and the Pennsylvania Barge Club crews, and many others would almost certainly enter an open regatta here. Such an event would add immensely to the interest in rowing.

The club has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Beverly T. Crump; Vice-President, Wm. Gray Watson; Treasurer, Charles R. Burnett; Secretary, Walter B. Claiborne; Captain, William E. Crawford; Board of directors, above named officers and Messrs. John W. Bates, Leroy D. Grant, Irvin H. Williams, Frank J. Sampson, W. L. Gilliam, R. B. Forrest.

ALL FAVORITES AT BENNING'S LOSE

Opening Day of the Fall Meeting at the Washington Track a Good One.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 16.—The crowd at Benning this afternoon was not so large as the one that usually witnesses the performances of the opening day. The fact that Virginia was playing Georgetown at the other end of the city accounted to a considerable extent for the smallness of the attendance at the track side.

The track was fast and the card fair. Fifty-three bookies were on hand, and doing such business as was possible under the circumstances, since they were required to keep moving about through the crowd, the district attorney's office following the practice of last year in forbidding the bookies to have the layout common to most tracks. Two representatives of the district attorney's office were on the grounds to see that this order was not disobeyed.

All the favorites were bowled over. Guardal, at as good as 15 to 1 who took the lead at the outset, easily won the sixth Bladenburg steeple chase handicap, in which eight three-year-olds and over were entered. Guardian clipped the track record for the distance by 1 3/4 seconds. Summary: First race—five and a half furlongs: Columbia course—Glaucus (7 to 1) first, Andri (7 to 5, to show) second, King Thistle (2 to 1, to show) third. Time, 1:10.

Second race—the Bladenburg steeple chase—seven furlongs: Columbia course—Comedienne (8 to 1) first, Prince of Pilsen (7 to 1, place) second, Essex (7 to 5, to show) third. Time, 2:28.

Third race—six furlongs: Columbia course—Belle of the Bay (12 to 1) first, Pins and Needles (2 to 1, place) second, Noxyote (7 to 5, to show) third. Time, 1:22.

Fourth race—the seventh Columbia course—Comedienne (8 to 1) first, Dolly Spanker (8 to 5, place) second, Oranium (2 to 5, to show) third. Time, 1:28.

Fifth race—six and a half furlongs: Columbia course—Dixie Himmel (6 to 1) first, Monopolist (2 to 1, place) second, Carrollton (2 to 5, to show) third. Time, 1:22 1/2.

Sixth race—one mile and a sixteenth: Columbia course—Lucky 8 (8 to 1) first, Joe (even, place) second, Peter Knight (6 to 5, to show) third. Time, 1:50 1/2.

DAQUE SAVES NAVY.

Annapolis End Scores Winning Touchdown at Last Moment.

ANNAPOLES, November 16.—After playing a stagg game straight through the contest, Daque, Navy's fast right end, scored the only touchdown against Pennsylvania State, and snatched victory from defeat for the midshipmen in the last thirty seconds of play here this afternoon. The score was: Navy 6, State, 4.

GREAT GAME HERE THANKSGIVING DAY

V. P. I. Eleven Has Fine Record and Will Endeavor to Beat Carolina.

WHAT IT HAS DONE SO FAR

Good Claim to First Honors. Records of Games With North Carolina.

The last football game of the season, and perhaps the greatest in point of a clever, finished struggle by well matched teams before a holiday crowd exceeding all other gatherings at the park, will be the eleventh annual meeting between the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and University of North Carolina teams on Thanksgiving Day, now just ten days off.

Carolina, the veteran of the University of Virginia and by Clemson, will make a desperate attempt to regain lost laurels and finish the season with a creditable victory. The Techs have lost but one game this season, and that to Davidson College of North Carolina through V. P. I. Eleven's teacher of the day thought they had the game safe. The showing made by the eleven against V. M. I. a week ago was a revelation even to its friends, few of whom suspected that the team possessed such strength.

To make the Thanksgiving Day game within the reach of all, the management have determined to fix the figures for the covered grandstand only at $1.25, while no other seats will be reserved, and the visitors kept anywhere, north, south, east or west, being sold at $1, the purchaser to have choice, first come, first served. A less fee will be charged for small boys. Admission to the grounds at a dollar means seat on the stands and a good view of the play.

V. P. I., having most decisively defeated a team which practically did Virginia and beaten Washington and Lee, which did the Virginia, and been beaten only by Davidson, which tied Virginia, has only to defeat North Carolina more decisively than did Virginia to have a better claim to the championship honors of Virginia than the university. Next Saturday the Techs will play the Naval Academy, which tied Vanderbilt, and the V. P. I. boys win this right their claims to Southern honors will be better than those of any other team. V. P. I. beat Georgetown by a score which could have been made much larger.

In the record of the two teams which will meet on Thanksgiving Day, showing the results of their annual battles:

UNIVERSITY EASILY DEFEATS GEORGETOWN

Georgetown's lone touchdown was scored in the second half in the first few seconds of play.

During the initial period both teams played on equal terms, neither having an advantage, and but for Stewart's bad judgment in sending Simon on a run when only a few yards from Virginia's goal, the visitors would have had to be content without a score in the half. It was a fatal mistake, and took the life out of the Blue and Gray team for a time; but when little Stewart, making for the end, took the kick-off at the beginning of the second half and ran the entire distance for a touchdown, the entire crowd of Georgetown supporters knew no bounds to their enthusiasm.

Georgetown was clearly outplayed in the second half. Virginia just toyed with the Blue and Gray team after the first five minutes of play. Crawford, Neff and Waples ripped the local line into bits, making for five to twenty yards on every plunge.

Line Plunging Game.

It was the old-fashioned game. Only three times during the contest was the forward pass in evidence, and on all three occasions it failed to produce anything. Virginia would have been successful had it not been for the leather to Maddux. Honaker tossed inside of the required distance, and the Virginia eleven was penalized fifteen yards. Maddux carried the ball over the goal line, and but for the short throw of Charlesville team would have scored another touchdown.

It was by no means a gentle game. Neither Virginia nor Georgetown dealt lightly with each other, but there were only two or three instances of fighting. The officials threatened to put the men out of the game if the rough work did not stop, and from the middle of the first half until the whistle blew, ending the game, the contest was a free-for-all.

The penalties were severe. Referee Oleott worked up and down the field with the two elevens, and time and again he dealt out ten and fifteen yards losses to one of the teams. At one time he rebuked the damage, but for the most part they were imposed when the ball was in midfield, and therefore did not interfere greatly with the goal-marching of either team.

Georgetown Outclassed.

As a whole the Charlottesville team outclassed the Georgetown eleven. Its men with better judgment than did Stewart, but both of the players pulled off the feature runs of the afternoon. The Virginia line outweighed the local forwards, and the Orange and blue backfield had little trouble in penetrating the opposing line. Georgetown was very slow in starting its plays.

November 17th in the Annals of Sport.

1853—In match trotting race for $5,000, Ethan Allen and mate beat Lantern and Kate at Arlington House, L. I.

1884—At New York, John L. Sullivan defeated Alf Greenfield in two rounds.

1886—At Chicago—National League of Baseball Clubs held its annual meeting; Pittsburgh club admitted to membership.

1888—At Saratoga, N. Y.,—B. C. Smith defeated Fred Hawkins in ten-mile walking match for $200; 1 hour, 41 minutes.

1892—At Baltimore, Md.—The San Francisco baseball teams, of the California League, played ten-innings without a run being scored, darkness then stopping the contest.

1894—At Philadelphia—University of Pennsylvania football team defeated Cornell, 6 to 0.

1904—At Oklahoma City—Dan Patch lowered the world's record for pacing, a mile on a half-mile track, to 2.03.

1905—At Milwaukee—Jack Dougherty knocked out Eddie Santry in fourth round.

Those Remaining at Home Unite in Joyous Celebration of Victory.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., November 16.—The 200 or 300 Virginia students who remained at the university today to attend lectures, celebrated the victory over Georgetown with great glee to-night. Soon after supper a big bonfire was started near the bridge at the entrance to the grounds, which Mr. Roosevelt dubbed "The Bridge of Scores," because it contained a record of Virginia's athletic victories. As there was a scarcity of boxes, theatrical billboards, fences and railroad cars were brought into requisition, and around the fire danced the undergraduates singing songs and giving the various college yells. After the blaze died down the students formed into a procession and marched to the gymnasium where they were the cynosure of the big crowd of Saturday night shoppers. The leaders carried torches, and there was a plentiful supply of tin pans and horns. Before returning to college the crowd visited Rawlings Institute, a female school.
